THE DISTRICT JUDGESHIP.

The position of United States District Judge of Nevada, made vacant by the death of Judge Sabin, must soon be filled by the President, and the name he should send to the Senate of the United States is R. R. Bigelow, at present a District Judge of the State. Judge Bigelow is as clean a man as ever sat upon the Bench in any country. He is a sober man. He would never disgrace the position by becoming the slave of intoxicating liquors while upon the Bench. He is an honest Judge. No amount of money could buy an opinion from him. He is an able Judge. He knows the law, and renders decisions accordingly. He is a student of the books, and wastes not his time in idleness. He is a stanch Republican and served his country fighting on field of battle. He should be remembered for it now. Viewed from every possible standpoint his nomination is the most fitting that can be made, and would be creditable to the Administration, to the Republican party, and to the people of Nevada and people of the battle born State, should insist that the Nevada delegation present Judge Bigelow's name to the President for the vacant place.

A syndicate has been formed of wealthy French Hebrews for the purpose of purchasing for the custody of the Hebrews the copy of the Hebrew Bible which is in the Vatican. The offer which has been made for it is $200,000, but it is stated the Pope cannot legally sell it.

It is the most famous bible there is in existence. The bible is in the original Hebrew manuscript, and the exact time when it was written has never been satisfactorily determined, any more than it came into the possession of the congregation founded by Pope Gregory XV, some 300 years ago. The persons who have seen the valuable manuscript are very few.

Russell Harrison says:

"The President stands upon the Republican platform of 1888, which promises a revision of the tariff and additional silver legislation. He is anxious that these promises shall be carried out. I am sure he would sign any satisfactory bill on these subjects."

F. G. Newlands has written an open letter to Secretary Windom, which is a corker.

It is intimated that the President will veto any free coinage bill.

Ex-Senator Jones, of Florida, has been adjudged insane.

SACRAMENTO, May 19.—The Government contractor, for closing the Paine break, began to drive piles Thursday last, but the fierce current made it possible to drive but three piles. When the float carrying the pile driver was attached to these, the strain scapped the piles. It was finally decided to begin at one end of the break and draw the pile driver ahead on the tops of the piles as they are driven. There is considerable more water going through the break than flowing in the river.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., May 19.—Edward Flading, a German laborer, 35 years old, shot and instantly killed his wife May, aged 34, this evening. He then shot himself, inflicting a wound that will probably prove fatal. From a letter found on Flading it appears he and his wife had a quarrel Saturday, and this morning she sent him a letter, saying she meant to leave him and move, with her furniture, to 326, Ellis street. Flading went to the address in a rage and the tragedy ensued.

BARTINE AND SILVER.

HE THROWS LIGHT ON THE ACTIONS OF THE HOUSE COINAGE COMMITTEE.

The Silver Fight in the House—His Own Views on the Subject of Free Coinage—A Clear and Manly Statement of His Own Position.

WASHINGTON, May 9, 1890.

S. P. DAVIS, DEAR SIR:—I have just read your editorial under the caption of "Bartine's Opportunity," and as it evidently rests upon a misapprehension, I drop you a line in explanation of the situation.

It may not be generally understood that the business of the House of Representativas is done almost entirely through the medium of committees. When a bill is introduced, the first step is to refer it to a committee. Bills relating to the coinage always go to the Committee on Coinage. Until the Committee reports a bill it is impossible for the House to take any action concerning it; and even then it remains for the Committee on Rules to report a resolution fixing a time for its consideration.

In the Coinage Committee we have now just nine free coinage bills, referred to it as above stated, and there they sleep as peacefully as if such a thing as a turbulent House of Representatives did not exist. If my only object were to make a showing for political effect at home, I should have made the number ten long ago. But that is all the good it would have done our people. It is utterly impossible to get such a bill reported to the House.

The whole subject of free coinage was considered, (indeed, it was about the only subject considered) when the Windom bill was under fire. The complexion of the Committee was as follows: Bland and Williams, Democrats, Carter and myself, Republicans, for free conage straight. Wickham, of Ohio (Rep.) inclined to free coinage, but willing to stop a little short of it by way of compromise, and Taylor, of Illinois (Rep.) in favor of the Senate bill or some similar measure, making six in all who were strongly opposed to the Windom bill. In favor of it were Conger, Walker, Comstock and Knapp, Republicans, and Tracy, Mitchler and Wilcox, Democrats.

It is proper for me to add, however, that Walker and Knapp, Tracy and Mitchler are very closely wedded to the gold standard, and think the Windom bill entirely too friendly to silver. They have accepted it merely as a counterpoise to the extreme silver sentiment. When the final vote was taken in Committee it stood six to six, Wickham being absent and Knapp voting against it because he didn't like the amendments. Then, knowing that it would never do to have the matter tied up indefinitely in the Committee, Mr. Carter changed his vote, pro forma, to enable the bill to be reported, but with the distinct understanding that he was not to be bound by the vote. We believed that a clear majority in the House would vote for free coinage, pure and simple, if they got a chance, and our idea was to make the fight on the basis of the Bland substitute. There is no doubt in my mind that if the Windom bill had not been launched as a disturbing element, free coinage would have swept the House; but it can readily be seen that such a measure, ostensibly friendly to silver, and with the whole power of the Administration behind it, has a most decided tendency to divide the silver men. The Administration naturally feels very kindly towards its own measure. As finally amended, about all that remains of the original proposition is the provision allowing the holder of certificates to receive bullion at the option of the Government, but this one feature preserving its identity, or rather suggesting its origin, is clung to very tenaciously.

There are very few Republicans in Congress who care to directly antagonize their own Administration in this matter, especially so as many of them, sincerely desirous of restoring silver, conscientiously believe that the bill, as it stands, is a good one.

We can scarcely expect that all silver men will look at the question from a Nevada standpoint. I presume that three-fourths of the Democrats in the House would vote for free coinage and then they would rejoice in a Presidential veto. With all their devotion to silver they were as silent as mummies during the last Administration. They were wild with enthusiasm over Mr. Cleveland, rushing pell mell to his support, nominating him by acclamation before they adopted a platform and forgetting to make any mention of silver therein, and yet Mr. Cleveland urged the suspension of silver coinage even before he was inaugurated. He closed one Mint without the slightest cause, and should have been delighted to see silver entirely discarded from our monetary system.

In their intense desire for free coinage, our people should not forget to be fair, or be blind to the past history of the country. I regret exceedingly Harrison is not in perfect accord with us, but I find some consolation in the fact that he is as much superior to Cleveland in this respect as in the matter of pensions to the "boys in blue." Now a word as to the "Teller Bill."

In the Senate, the rules of procedure are different from those of the House. In that body, a bill might be introduced and at the request of the introducer, "lie on the table" subject to be called up at any time when the way is clear. Hence the action of the Senator was not entirely senseless although I can see but little point in it, as there were already one or more free coinage bills before the Senate. But doubtless you observed that the "Teller Bill" allows the depositor to receive either the coin or certificates issued directly upon the bullion. The effect of this provision would probably be to suspend the coinage of standard dollars almost as completely as the "Windom bill" would.

In truth a very considerable proportion of the extreme silver men are in favor of entirely suspending actual coinage believing it to be a useless waste of time, labor and money. If any free coinage bill passes, it will probably contain just such a provision. This furnishes another illustration of difficulty of getting everybody to look at the silver question from our local point of view. I believe that silver should be stamped into coin and distributed among the people. Therefore I want a free coinage bill without any provisions in it. Another word concerning Senator Teller.

The Senator from Colorado is an able, earnest and devoted friend of silver; but if our people imbibe the notion that our own Senators are not equally so, they will make a most grevious mistake.

The battle begins in dead earnest in the Senate on Monday next. If that body sends us a good bill it will help us greatly in the House. The silver men are much stronger relatively in the Senate than in the popular branch. The reason is obvious.

The new States are all solid for silver, and Nevada with 60,000 people has the same representation as New York with 6,000,000, but in the lower House, our sparse population tells against us, and New York alone has nearly twelve times as many Representatives as Nevada, Colorado and Montana combined.

In the Senate we have two in a body of eighty-four. In the House, one in three hundred and thirty. Now, as to my own position, concerning which I am loath to speak, for none who knows me should have a shadow of doubt. There is not a man in Nevada who is more anxious for free coinage than I am. To that end I have labored unceasingly and with such ability as I possess. That ability is very moderate, I know, and it is unfortunately true that thus far I have not been able to absolutely control the House of Representatives by the sheer force of my intellectual greatness. Still I possess enough of common intelligence to make my wishes known, and that my position is well understood, is clearly evidenced by the fact that my regular morning salutation upon the floor of the House is, "Well, Bartine, how is silver?"

I am for free coinage in preference to anything else; failing in that I am for the very best thing attainable. If I feel reasonably assured that some measure other than free coinage, will raise the price of silver to 1.20 or 1.25, I think that our people would have good cause for complaint if I rejected it in pique because I could not reach the full extent of their desires and my own. However, the first duty of a member of Congress is to carry out the wishes of those who elect him.

If our people are determined to have free coinage or nothing, and will manifest that determination in some proper way, I shall certainly endeavor to act in conformity therewith. My ideas upon the subject may be crude, but I cannot help thinking that a measure that will add 20 to 25 per cent to the value of our silver output, which will virtually close the gap between gold and silver and thus remove very serious objection to the free coinage, must strike our people as being a good deal better than nothing. If I am mistaken, they have only to set me right.

Now a word in conclusion. Nevada is my home and has been for more than twenty-one years. During all that period until elected to Congress, I was never out of this State more than two weeks at a time.

All of my interests and dearest associations are there; all that I am I owe to the generous confidence of those with whom I have lived for so many long years. In view of these ties and obligations, I shall not be very likely to intentionally sacrifice the interests of those whom I deem it an honor to represent in the Congress of the United States.

I remain as ever your friend.

H. F. BARTINE.

The Tariff.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The amendments offered Saturday by McKinley to the internal revenue clause of the bill were adopted, as were also a number of other McKinley amendments regarding tobacco, and snuff tax.

Henderson (Iowa) spoke in favor of restoring the present internal tax on tobacco and offered an amendment to that effect. The people preferred, he said, that the tax should be taken from the necessities of the table, rather than from the pipe, cigar and whisky jug.

Tucker (Virginia) offered an amendment abolishing the tax on tobacco. It was rejected, 62 to 118. The Henderson amendment was also rejected, 36 to 118. Henderson offered another amendment restoring the present rate of duty on wool and woolens. Pending a vote the committee rose and the House adjourned.

Senate.

Special to the JOURNAL.

WASHINGTON, May 19.—The silver bill was taken up and Dolph addressed the Senate. He thought that international bimetallism was desirable. In considering the various plans proposed he was satisfied the plan proposed by the Secretary of the Treasury was open to less and to fewer objections than any of the others if the purpose was to keep both gold and silver coin in circulation. He argued against the free coinage of silver. At the close of Dolph's speech Teller criticized it. Mitchell expressed dissent from the views expressed by his colleague, Dolph, saying, "I do not desire it to go out that my colleague's speech on this question voices the whole of the sentiment of Oregon so far as the representation of that State is concerned on the floor." The Senate then went into executive session and adjourned.

The Arnold Trial.

Special to the JOURNAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—When the trial of D. H. Arnold was resumed this morning the defendant again took the stand and related the details of the tragedy. He said that on the day the shooting occurred he met Garness on Market street and told him he wanted to talk to him. They accordingly went into the Peerless saloon and into the back room, where they ordered drinks. The witness said he accused Garness of writing the circulars which reflected upon Mrs. Arnold's character. Garness jumped to his feet and exclaimed: "Well, suppose I did, what are you going to do about it?" Witness continued "Garness made a motion for his hip pocket and as he did so I commenced firing and fired four shots."

A Bark Lost.

Special to the JOURNAL.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—The steamer Karluk arrived to-day from Kodiak, Alaska, bringing information that the bark Corea, Captain Wheeler, had gone ashore at Cook's inlet, and with her cargo was a total loss. No lives lost. The bark left this port, carrying supplies for the salmon canneries, on March 27th. The vessel was owned by the Arctic Packing Co., and was valued at $15,000. The cargo was valued at $45,000. Both vessel and cargo are insured.

Dyspepsia

Makes the lives of many people miserable, and often leads to self-destruction. Distress after eating, sour stomach, sick headache, heartburn, loss of appetite, a faint, "all gone" feeling, bad taste, coated tongue, and irregularity of the bowels, are some of the more common symptoms. Dyspepsia does not get well of itself. It requires careful, persistent attention, and a remedy like Hood's Sarsaparilla, which acts gently, yet surely and efficiently. It tones the stomach and other organs, regulates the digestion, creates a good appetite, and by thus overcoming the local symptoms removes the sympathetic effects of the disease, banishes the headache, and refreshes the tired mind.

Heartburn

Sour Stomach

"I have been troubled with dyspepsia. I had but little appetite, and what I did eat distressed me, or did me little good. In an hour after eating I would experience a faintness, or tired, all-gone feeling, as though I had not eaten anything. My trouble, I think, was aggravated by my business, which is that of a painter, and from being more or less shut up in a room with fresh paint. Last spring I took Hood's Sarsaparilla—took three bottles. It did me an immense amount of good. It gave me an appetite, and my food relished and satisfied the craving I had previously experienced." There is now beginning to be life in the lumber camps of the Sierras, says the Truckee Republican The sound of the axe echoes among the pines once more and again blue wreaths of smoke curl upward from chimneys of cabins buried in the snow only a few weeks ago This will be a great year for all the lumbermen, their old stocks of lumber are wiped out and orders are daily rolling in upon them from all quarters, particularly from Ogden and Salt Lake City.

Henry Rolfe to Visit China.

A private letter from Henry Rolfe, the well known Virginia City stock broker, states that he is still very weak from the rupture of a brain blood vessel sustained several weeks ago and his physicians having recommended him to take a sea voyage, he has decided to sail for China on the next steamer from San Francisco.

Reno.

The Susanville Advocate kindly remarks:

A drive through the suburbs of Reno is instructive to anyone interested in irrigation and its wonderful effects on arid land. Beautiful fields of alfalfa bloom on every side on land which yielded nothing a short time ago but a plentiful supply of rocks. As one gets beyond the limits of the cultivated fields, and sees the hopelessly barren nature of the soil, it seems almost incredible that water alone could make such a transformation. If our Honey Lake ranchers had to wrestle with the wilderness of rocks which cover the unclaimed lands about Reno, they would think a long time before beginning the task. Yet, by a little industry and plenty of water from the Truckee, the town and its surroundings, when viewed from any of the hills near by, looks a perfect garden spot, its beauty being enhanced by the grand background of the Sierras. Beautiful residences are springing up all over the town, especially in the Powning Addition. Pure mountain air, pure mountain water, magnificent scenery, and a fine business situation, all tend to make Reno a place most desirable to live and be happy in.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. It cures dysentery and diarrhœa, regulates the stomach and bowels, cures wind colic, softens the gums, reduces inflamation, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female nurses and physicians in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. feb. 21-swf-1y

Humboldt Lake Overflowing

The water in Humboldt lake is overflowing its banks and it is probable that the overflow will connect it with the Carson Sink, an occurrence which has only been recorded once since the settlement of Nevada by the palefaces.

TALK IS CHEAP,

and the press teems with advertisements of sarsaparillas, and other liver, blood and lung remedies, but there is one medicine, and only one, the claims for which, as a cure for all lingering diseases arising from Torpid Liver or Biliousness, or from impure blood, are backed up by a positive guarantee! If it does not do just as represented in every case the money paid for it is promptly refunded.

This peculiar medicine sells beyond all others throughout the civilized world. And why should it not? "Talk is cheap," but when it's backed up by a positive guarantee, by a house of long established reputation, for honesty, integrity and sound financial standing, then words mean business! And that's just what the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., mean in guaranteeing their Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery checks the frightful inroads of Scrofula and, if taken in time, arrests the march of Consumption of the Lungs (which is Lung-scrofula), purifies and enriches the blood, thereby curing all Skin and Scalp Diseases, Ulcers, Sores, Swellings, and kindred ailments.

250 Beautiful Lots For Sale!

A RARE CHANCE FOR AN INVESTMENT AND A HOME

THE MOST LOVELY PORTION OF RENO.

Facing the Truckee—The Aristocratic Avenue Riverside Driveway—Splendid Sewerage—Healthy Location and Safe From Fire.

The proprietor is now ready to receive proposals for lots in Powning's Addition. The map gives a good idea of the Tract, which is situated between the Central Pacific Railroad and the Truckee River, and commences on the west at a point three blocks distant from Virginia Street, making it the most central and convenient of any portion of the rapidly growing town of Reno. Unlike any other part of the town this Addition faces the beautiful Truckee River and Riverside Avenue is certain to become the fashionable driveway of the country. The streets are 80 feet wide, while Riverside and Keystone Avenues are intended to be 100 feet in width. All alleys are 20 feet wide. The soil is a rich gravelly loam, and susceptible of the highest state of cultivation. Being situated as it is it is more safe from fire than any other section The regular lots are 50x140 feet. The sewerage is perfect.

Before Buying Elsewhere Parties will do Well to Look at These Lots.

RENO

Reno's geographical position is excellent. It is on the line of the Central Pacific Railroad, only 154 miles from Sacramento, and 244 miles from San Francisco It is the terminus of the Virginia and Truckee Railroad running south, and of the Nevada and California Railroad running north. It has two Flouring Mills, Planing Mills, three Nurseries, a Soap Factory, Reduction Works, and other industries. A great Woolen Mill and a Sash, Door, Blind and Box Factory, are about to be established.

Reno has the Bank of Nevada with $300,000 capital, and the First National Bank with $200,000 capital. It has two fine papers in the DAILY and WEEKLY NEVADA STATE JOURNAL and the Daily and Weekly Gazette.

Reno is the natural home of the Alfalfa, and therefore the great cattle headquarters of the State. Here are fed the prime beef for the California market. Reno potatoes are the best in the world, and she also excels in Strawberries and the small fruits. Reno Wheat took the first prize at the great New Orleans Exposition.

The State Fair is always held at Reno.

Reno is the County Seat of Washoe County, the wealthiest county in Nevada.

RENO

Has no equal in Nevada or California for salubrity of climate, wealth of soil, diversity of products and stability. Situated in the very heart of the celebrated Truckee Meadows the future of Reno is assured. Reno is the City of Homes. There is not a house to rent in Reno. New buildings are occupied as fast as erected. Reno has advantages which no other town can equal. The climate is mild and genial in Winter, and even and healthful in Summer. There are no excessively heated or severely cold terms, and while the days may be warm in Summer the nights are deliciously cool; in Winter sleigh-riding is the exception and not the rule.

Facilities for irrigating surpass any in the State and there is no failure of crops. Reno has Churches of all denominations, Bishop Whitaker's School for Girls, Mt. St. Mary's Academy, the State University, and splendid Public Schools.

The Reno Water Co. furnishes ample pure, cold water for all purposes. The Reno Electric Light Co.'s electric light system, already well established, is being augmented. The Reno Gas Co. supplies gas for all purposes. The streets of Reno are lighted by electricity.
